At the same time, he is also a tribute to our strong team of employees who do an excellent job every day."

The LANS Med Concept is a holistic health concept that combines naturopathy and recognized therapies with scientific know-how and top international medicine. Based on the findings of the Austrian pioneer and physician Franz Xaver Mayr (1875 - 1965), it is intended to support the guest in recovering mentally and physically during a cure. The treatments focus on detoxification, deacidification and purification of the body. In this way, the intestinal tract is to be regenerated - after all, it symbolizes the state of human health.
