London, UK – 24 October 2019: Lanserhof Tegernsee has been named World's Best Medical Spa for the fifth year in a row at the World Spa Awards 2019 following a ceremony this weekend in Dubai. The resort was also awarded Germany's Best Wellness Retreat, with the newest addition to the portfolio, Lanserhof at The Arts Club, awarded Best Private Member's Club Spa and World's Best Spa Design. The group's latest acquisition, Grayshott Medical Spa in Surrey, has been named England's Best Wellness Retreat.

"We are delighted that Lanserhof Tegernsee has been named the World's Best Medical Spa for the fifth year in a row, with the new Lanserhof at The Arts Club also receiving multiple accolades including World's Best Spa Design" said Dr Christian Harisch, CEO at Lanserhof. "Since our first property opened its doors in 1974 we have been setting the standard in the wellness industry and driving innovation, we are so proud to be recognised by our peers and colleagues with another prestigious award and look forward to the year ahead and the launch of Lanserhof Sylt in early 2021."

Frequently recognised as a world leader, Lanserhof Tegernsee has earned an impressive reputation for its innovative symbiosis of naturopathy and state-of-the-art medicine in the pursuit of optimum health. Set on the shores of Lake Tegernsee and designed by architectural mastermind Christoph Ingenhoven, the property is celebrated for the integrated wellness experience offered to guests and the skilfully designed setting in which guests can find their inner balance.

These achievements follow a mammoth year for the brand including the launch of the world's first medical gym, Lanserhof at The Arts Club in London's Mayfair this July in partnership with renowned Private Members' Club, The Arts Club. The first-of-its-kind and Lanserhof's first project in the UK, the property offers an integrated service that encompasses medicine, fitness, health and beauty situated under one roof. Developments also continue in Germany as Lanserhof prepare for the opening of Lanserhof Sylt in 2021. Once completed, the property, situated on one of the highest elevations on Sylt, will become one of the flagship properties within the Lanserhof portfolio.
